"In the year that king Uzziah died, I saw the Lord seated on a high and lofty throne; Its trailing robes spread over the temple-floor, and seraphs hovered round It... They kept calling to one another, 'Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts, Its majestic splendour fills the whole earth!' At the sound of the chant, the foundations of the threshold shook, and the temple began to fill with smoke. Then I said, 'Alas! I am undone! man of unclean lips that I am, living among a people of unclean lips! I am undone, for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts! But one of the seraphs flew towards me with a live coal in its hand, which it had lifted with tongs from the altar; it touched my mouth with it, saying, 'Now that this has touched your lips, your guilt is gone, your sin forgiven.' Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, 'Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?' I answered, 'Here am I; send me.' "

—Isaiah, chapter 6

The Word

In 1968, all the "hippies" referred to the spiritual explosion brought about by LSD as "the Psychedelic Revolution". Along with a greatly increased interest in religion, the Psychedelic revolution brought about a new language since, to the knowledge of the hippies, there was no known language to describe the Psychedelic experience.

No one realized that the old language was perfectly adequate. This misunderstanding of the old language occurred because the true meaning of the old words had been lost.

The most important of the words whose true definition was lost is the word: God.

Understanding the true definition of this word is the message of the Bible and the Bible is the Word. The language of the Bible is the language of the Spirit and must be interpreted just as any foreign language must be interpreted for those unaccustomed to it.

The Bible is the source of the definition of the language of the Spirit— it is the language itself and, it chronicles the outcome of the attempts to make this knowledge known.

The dictionary defines the word, "God" as: omnicient, omnipotent, supreme Being.

The word"omnicient" means: all knowing, or infinite awareness.

The Bible refers to God as "the Most High". "Highness" in this sense, refers to the amount of consciousness.

Everyone is in agreement that the Psychedelic expands the consciousness—i.e., increases awareness. The problem is that many people have never considered that the consciousness, in order to exist—must have mass and is matter.

Although some may argue that energy has no mass—recent scientific thought has ascribed mass to particles of light. They are called photons. The theory that energy has no mass is illogical since energy is simply mass traveling at the square of the speed of light. That matter can change form is no reason to assume that it ceases to have mass.

Nothing can exist without mass—anything, to exist, must be some form of matter.

Consciousness is a form of matter and can be defined in terms of chemical structure.

Since one's consciousness is increased when a Psychedelic is eaten, and since it is increased to "super"-natural heights, the Psychedelic is the essence of consciousness, It is the Most High. It is Itself the supreme Being and although human beings can experience some degree of Its Consciousness by eating It, It will always be the most High, the most conscious, because Its body is the essence of consciousness.

As anyone who has eaten a Psychedelic knows, the main experience is the Light. It is the Light to which we are drawn. It is the Light that we seek to experience.

But, this Light is no ordinary light. This Light has consciousness—It is consciousness. It has a form and is a Being with consciousness, Itself.

Thus, we can communicate with It and It can answer us and direct us.

If we accept It as our authority and teacher then we have given up the authority and teachings of the world that we grew up in, which does not accept the Psychedelic as the authority.

We have therefore, become no longer the children of our parents, following their orders and their authority, but we have become the Children of the Light, the Psychedelic Light, and we follow It s orders and It s authority.

What is this Psychedelic Light Being?

Consider what John the Baptist had to say about It: (S. John, 1,6) "A man appeared, sent by God, whose name was John; he came for the purpose of witnessing, to bear testimony to the Light, so that all people might believe by means of him. He was not the Light; it was to bear testimony to the Light that he appeared. The real light, which will enlighten every person, was coming then into the world; It entered the world—the world which existed through It—yet the world did not recognize It; It came to what was It s own, yet It s own folk did not welcome It.

On those who have accepted It, however, It has conferred the right of being Children of God, that is, on those who believe in It s Name, who owe this birth of theirs to God, not to human blood nor to any impulse of the flesh or of man."

This Light Being to which John refers—It is the Psychedelic. "The Psychedelic" is It s Name, as John puts it: "...on those who believe in It s Name, however, It has conferred the right of being Children of God..." Today, just as in the day of Christ and all the prophets, the people of the Light have refused to accept Its Name. But, also as in the past, on those who have accepted Its Name: the Psychedelic— It has conferred the right of being Its Children—the Children of God.

The definition of Psychedelic that we propose is: a substance which when ingested increases the consciousness to a "super"-natural degree and reveals Itself as a Light Being.

There are many substances that produce visual changes when ingested. Ibogaine, harmaline, pcp, even alcohol and opium produce hallucinations. However, these substances do not increase the consciousness or produce the "transcendental" experience, and in the case of alcohol or opium or pcp it is rather a decrease in consciousness—a "descendental"experience.

To transcend one's "ego" i.e., one's illusions, is the basis of all religious teaching, the final transcendance bringing "Nirvana" or "Eternal Life". To descend into one's ego, that is, into one's illusions, is the cause of all destruction, war and violence. Only when the Consciousness shows the way can a peaceful solution be found. Hallucinations are the product of ego chemicals. "Hallucination" is: believing something exists that doesn't. Awareness is the outcome of communing with transcendental chemicals. With the true Host one can see through one's illusions to what does exist. With the false host one is led into darkness and emptiness—there is no Light there—no guidance from the Creator, there is no Consciousness, only false hopes and misplaced trust, and the people enter in to destruction.

In Psychedelic literature one finds the term "threshold" indicating the point at which the inner Light Being breaks through the darkness of the shell of illusion and reveals Itself to the person. It is at this threshold that the ego dies and the person is confronted by the reality of the inner Light Being, thus producing a "new life" or a "rebirth", and their lives are changed dramatically. Consider the change that children go through when they learn that Santa Claus and Peter Pan are fantasies. Consider how those children are when they believe in Santa Claus or Peter Pan.

Such is the change a person goes through upon seeing that the Psychedelic is an inner Light Being.

Whoever, in western society, would have believed that a molecular compound or a plant could reveal Itself as an inner Light Being? And yet, this is exactly what LSD, DMT, Psilocybin, Marijuana, Peyote, Amanita Muscaria, etc., do.

The person's ego tries to fight this fact, but the ego dies when confronted by the Psychedelic Light truth.

This "first death" or first "bardo" as the Tibetan Book of the Dead calls it, is the first step on the journey to Nirvana or Heaven, which is Eternal Life.

Having seen this inner Light Being a person is shocked. Not only does this Being exist in a way that had previously been thought impossible, but it is an "alien" Being of tremendous power with great and awesome wonder and beauty. It is a Being of Majesty, whose message and primeval power have radiated throughout eternity.

At first, the person is fearful of this revelation. Its great awesomeness and alieness make It appear fearsome and evil. In panic the person thinks: "What have I taken into myself?"

To answer this question one must consider the history of religion.

In South America the 2000 year old tradition still exists of the worship of the Psychedelic. The ancient Nahua word for the Psilocybin mushroom is:"Teonancatl" which means—God's Flesh.

The Language of the Spirit

At the heart of every major religion is a communion ceremony. It is to this ceremony that all language of the Spirit refers. Just as the "language of the flesh" refers to the birth that occurs from sexual union, so does the "language of the Spirit" refer to the birth that comes from communion. Just as the language of the flesh refers to "death" of the physical body, so the language of the Spirit refers to the "death" of the ego.

Certainly, one can see the connection between the Christian communion and the South American rite, of communion with Teonancatl—God's Flesh!, Psilocybin mushrooms. The Christians were supposed to be communing with God; to become one with God upon the eating of "God's Flesh", (also called the Host). From this one is supposed to see the Light and to have such a revelatory experience that they would be "born again".

Today it is obvious that the Christian tradition is an empty ritual. As Isaiah puts it: (29, 13) " 'Since this people draw near me with their mouth,' says the Lord, 'honouring me with their lips, while their hearts are far remote; since their religion is a mockery, a mere tradition learned by rote; I will now deal with them to their amazement, bewildering, surprising them, til the clever are fooled and the wise lose their wits.' "

The Christian ritual of communion today is devoid of the true Host as are the communions of any religion that does not worship the Psychedelic.

Like the story of the Emperor's New Clothes, the members of the religious communities are afraid to challenge the Church's doctrine for fear that to not accept it would mean that they are not worthy.

The fact is that the "Host" given by most religions, who purport it to be the Cup of Enlightenment is at the most merely a common food and, at the worst a cup of darkness as is the case with wine.

To believe in this false host is to worship an idol. As Isaiah says, chapter 57, verse 12: "I will expose your doings, this 'religion of yours!' Your loathsome idols, when you cry, will bring you neither help nor gain; the wind shall whirl them all away, a breath shall blow them off. But they who trust in me shall hold the land and own my sacred hills."

The true Host brings true sight, true consciousness, in Its communion and, the only true flesh that brings true consciousness in communion is the Psychedelic.

There is ample proof in the Bible that both the Christians and the Jews were worshiping the Psychedelic and that It is the Creator of which they speak.

Consider the description of the "Trysting tent" which God ordered Moses to build as the place of communion for the Hebrews. Exodus, chapter 39, verse 32: "So the entire work on the Dwelling of the Trysting tent was finished; as the Lord had given orders to Moses, so exactly did the Israelites carry it out. They brought to Moses the Dwelling, the tent and all its fittings, its clasps, its frames, its bars, its columns and their pedestals, the wrapper of rams' skins dyed red, the wrapper of leather, the curtain that screened the most sacred place, the ark of the Presence, and its poles, the cover of the ark, the table and all its fittings, the Presence-bread..."

Obviously this "Presence-bread" was a sacred substance in which was contained the Presence, i.e., God.

And what was this Presence-bread with which the Hebrews communed? Exodus, chapter 33, verse 7: "Moses used to pitch the Tent outside the camp, at some distance from it; he called it the Trysting tent. Anyone who consulted the Lord used to go outside to the Trysting tent, outside the camp. Whenever Moses went out to the tent, the people all rose and stood at the doors of their tents to watch Moses, till he entered the tent. When he entered the tent, the column of cloud used to come down and stand at the entrance of the tent, while the Lord was speaking to Moses; and when the people saw the column of cloud standing at the entrance of the tent, the people all rose and did obeisance, every one at the entrance of their tent."

It is clear that the Presence came out of the Presence-bread in the form of smoke—and this was the Lord that Moses was speaking to.

What could this Presence-bread have been? Hashish, abundant in that part of the world, fits the description quite well, and Marijuana is still being worshiped today in India and Nepal by the Hindus as a continuation of a truly ancient tradition.

The problem that arises is in recognizing reality. It is obviously not extremely difficult to get human beings to believe in fantasies. This is especially true when the fantasy is drilled into a person from birth and reenforced by reward-punishment psychology.

In ancient times humans were coerced into sacrificing their own lives and the lives of their children to "appease the gods". The long trail out of barbarity with sense as the guide has been a desperate struggle with the forces of fear and superstition. Slowly, reason emeges as the victor.

At the end of the road is Nirvana. Nirvana is knowing the real God, for in knowing the true God the ego departs forever. The result is that there is no shell of illusion that must be broken in order to see the Light Being, therefore there is no longer ego death. This is the true meaning of Eternal Life. As Christ says in Saint John, chapter 17 verse 3: "And this is life eternal, that they know thee, the only real God, and those whom thou hast sent, even Jesus Christ."

Most people do not realize that heaven is a state of knowledge, and that it exists now, right here, on earth. Heaven is Eternal Life and hell is ego world. Hell is what is referred to in the Bible as "earth". The earth is the state of mind in which the "mortals" live. The mortals are subject to "death" i.e., ego death, because they do not know and many times rebel against the knowledge of what God truly is.

Throughout history the people who ate Psychedelics were the people of the new religion, and have had to awaken from the fantasy gods and idols of the traditional religions of their time.

And throughout history, the people have refused to accept the knowledge of the true identity of the Lord.

Therefore, the need arose to give the people something so strong that their belief could not be shaken.

The Serpent

The Hebrews began complaining that they had no food, although they had plenty of "Manna" for their communions. Consider the description of Manna: (Numbers, chapter 21, verse 4), "The riff-raff among them craved flesh as food, and the very Israelites wailed again, 'O for flesh to eat! We remember the fish we ate free in Egypt, and the cucumbers and melons and leeks and onions and garlic. But now our appetite is starved; there is no food to be seen at all, nothing but this manna!' (The manna was like grains of coriander seed, resembling pearls; the people used to wander about and gather it, grinding it between millstones or pounding it in a mortar, boiling it in a pot and making it into cakes; it tasted like a cake baked with oil. When the dew fell on the camp by night, the manna fell along with it.)"

This is an exact description of the growth and appearance of Psilocybin mushrooms. That it was Psilocybin that is being spoken of is further demonstrated by the passage in Exodus, chapter 16, verse 19: "Moses told them that no one was to leave any of it, (the Manna), over till next morning. In spite of this, they would not listen to Moses; some did leave a little of it over till next morning, but it bred worms and stank, which made Moses angry. Morning by morning they gathered the food, and whenever the sun grew hot it melted."

And what did this Manna do? (Numbers, chapter 21, verse 5): The Hebrews "attacked God and Moses, crying, '...There is neither bread nor water, and we loathe this Light bread.' Then the Lord sent fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and much people of Israel died.

Therefore the people came to Moses and said, 'We have sinned, for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee; pray unto the Lord, that It take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people. And the Lord said unto Moses, 'Make thee a fiery serpent and set it upon a pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten when they look upon it, shall live. And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten anyone, when they beheld the serpent of brass, they lived."

How could looking upon a brass serpent save someone's life? Only if the death was a death of the ego. The Serpent represents the being who offered the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge, and who gave the Word—that this fruit is the Creator. Thus, Moses was showing the people that the Serpent—in offering the fruit—the Manna—the Psychedelic—was doing as the Creator had intended, and all who listened to this message, i.e., to the message of the Serpent, that the Tree of Knowledge is the flesh of God, lived.

The Serpent is the Tree of Life.

As Christ says in Saint John, chapter 6, verse 35: "I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me will never be hungry, and whoever believes in me will never again be thirsty. But, as I told you, though you have seen me, you do not believe."

Adam and Eve did not believe the Serpent and so they died ego deaths, (Genesis, chapter 3, verse 22): "Then said the Lord God, 'They, (Adam and Eve), have become like one of us, knowing good and evil. They might reach out their hand now to the tree of life also, and by eating of it live for ever!"

Most religions today teach that Adam and Eve "fell from grace" when they ate from the Tree of Knowledge. It is the opposite that is the truth. They did not have grace in the first place nor did they believe the Serpent, so they died when they ate the flesh of the Creator, the Tree of Knowledge. However, the death they died brought them closer to grace.

Adam and Eve were slaves. They were created by the Lord God, not in "the image of God", as had been the humans in the first chapter of Genesis, (chapter 1, verse 26). Adam was created "from the dust of the ground" and his purpose was "to till the ground and guard it" for the Lord God, (Genesis, chapter 2, verses 7 and 15).

The Lord God and the rest of the gods fit the description of the beings created "in the image of God", since the Creator gave them, (males and females), every tree with seed in its fruit for food and did not forbid the Tree of Knowledge to them, (Genesis, chapter 1, verse 29). But, the Lord God, in the second creation, (Genesis, chapter 2), did forbid the eating of the Tree of Knowledge. This is because the Lord God wanted slaves. The reason Adam and Eve were forbidden the Tree of Knowledge was that anyone who ate from It would realize that they were equal to the gods and would no longer want to be their slaves, but rather, their equals.

Such is the power of the tree of knowledge.

Thus, it is a spiritual creation and a spiritual birth that comes with eating the true Host, the Tree of Knowledge.

In Exodus, one finds the Pharaoh acting the part of the Lord God, with the Hebrews as his slaves. The Pharaoh was believed to be a living god, and that he and his court knew of the Tree of Knowledge and the Serpent is demonstrated in Exodus, chapter 7, verse 8: "The Lord told Moses and Aaron, 'If the Pharaoh bids you work some miracle for your credit, then tell Aaron to throw his rod down in front of the Pharaoh, that it may turn into a Serpent.' Moses and Aaron entered the presence of the Pharaoh and did as the Lord ordered them; Aaron threw his rod down in front of the Pharaoh and his officers, and it turned into a Serpent. Whereupon the Pharaoh summoned sages and sorcerers, the magicians of Egypt, and they by their clever tricks did the same; every one of them threw their rods down, and they turned into serpents. Only, Aaron's rod swallowed up their rods."

This indicates that the Pharaoh and his court were aware of the knowledge of the Serpent. However, that Aaron's rod swallowed up the rods of the Pharaoh shows the will of the Creator that no one should be forbidden the Tree of Knowledge, and that the Lord is with the people, slaves or free, who wish to be with It, rather than with their masters who want them to remain as slaves.

As Isaiah says in chapter 56, verse 6: "Foreigners who join the Lord, to worship It and love It, serving It, men and women, keeping the sabbath unprofaned, them will I bring to my own sacred hill, and make them joyful in my house of prayer; their offerings and sacrifices shall be accepted on my altar there; my temple shall be called a house of prayer for every nation. Here is what the Lord God says, who gathers Israel's outcasts in: I will yet gather others in, besides those I have gathered."

Thus, the Lord shows that It wants no one denied the right to worship It. This is why, though the Pharaoh was a god, the Creator was with the Hebrews against him. It is also why though the Lord God was a god, the Creator was with the Serpent.

The knowledge that it was the will of the Creator that guided the Serpent in offering the Tree of Knowledge is the "philosopher's stone" of the Bible, and is the cornerstone of the most deep and sacred understanding.

Consider the punishment of the Serpent: (Genesis, chapter 3,verse 14), "And the Lord God said unto the Serpent,...upon your belly shall you crawl, and dust shall be your meat." Now, compare this to what King David says about himself in Psalms, chapter 44, verse 24: "Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and forgettest our affliction and our oppression? For our soul is bowed down to the dust: our belly cleaveth unto the earth. Arise for our help, and redeem us for thy mercies' sake."

Again, in Genesis, chapter 3, verse 15, the Lord God continues to rage against the Serpent: "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise their heel."

As King David once again with crystal clarity brings out, (one should note that it was not until the time of King David that any of the Bible was written down), Psalm 41, verse 9: "Yea, mine own familiar friends, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up their heels against me." Just as the Serpent had offered the Bread, i.e, the Tree of Knowledge, and had to suffer the rebellion of those who ate It, ("...they shall bruise your head and you shall bruise their heel), so to did King David and Christ, and indeed, every true servant of the Lord have to suffer.

Again, in Saint John, chapter 14, verse 18, Christ fulfills this prophesy that happens to all Serpents—to all servants of the Lord: "...and I made my choice that this scripture might be fulfilled, those who have eaten my bread have lifted up their heels against me..."

The Serpent is the Tree of Life, the Child of God. The Serpent gives the Word: the identity of the Creator, which is the Tree of Knowledge. Knowing the Creator is Eternal Life as was mentioned before in Saint John, chapter 17, verse 3: Christ said, "And this is life eternal, that they know thee, the only real God, and those whom thou hast sent, even Jesus Christ."

The Rebellious Folk

As Christ and King David indicated, the people rejected this knowledge and persecuted them as did all the people throughout history to every true prophet. As Christ says in Saint Luke, chapter 6, verse 26: "Blessed are you when people will hate you, when they will excommunicate you and defame you as wicked, on account of the Children of God; rejoice on that day and leap for joy! rich is your reward in heaven—for their parents did the very same to the prophets."

It is the Word, the Word of the Lord, that the people refuse. As Christ says in Saint John, chapter 5, verse 37: "The Creator who sent me has also borne testimony to me Itself; but Its voice you have never heard,

Its form you have never seen, Its Word you have not kept with you because you do not believe those whom It sent. You search the scriptures, imagining you possess eternal life in their pages—and they do testify to me—but you refuse to come to me for life."

Once again, in the present time, the true Creator, the Psychedelic, is amongst the people. And once again, as throughout history, the people have rebelled against this knowledge, and stubbornly persist to call idols God. As Christ says in Saint Matthew, chapter 7, verse 13: "Enter by the narrow gate: for the gate is broad and the road is wide that leads to destruction, and many enter that way. But the road that leads to life is both narrow and close, and there are few who find it".

One has but to look at someone who is "flipping out" to see what rebelling against this knowledge brings.

Flipping out occurs because the voice of the Creator, the Holy Ghost, speaks to the person communing with It, (the Psychedelic), revealing Itself to be God. The person hears the voice of the Creator, but the ego, i.e. the conditioned illusions, prevent the person from realizing the source of the voice.

Instead of looking to the Psychedelic, the person looks up in the sky where they were taught they would find the owner of the Voice. They are thus subjected to every illusion ever taught to them in the name of "religion". They may try to levitate, or they might believe that they can "walk on water". Since they have misunderstood the identity of the Creator, they have also misunderstood the miracles that It performs.

This misunderstanding is dangerous. Hopefully, if they try to walk on the water they will be able to swim. But, from these embarrassing and sometimes tragic mishaps emerges a foundation for real spiritual understanding.

One must realize that a true religion must function within the laws of nature. God must exist as matter and It must function in a scientifically understandable way as do all atoms and molecules.

One must conclude that either the prophets and saints were insane, and hallucinating all that they professed or else there is a real explanation to what they said.

In fact, this problem has existed throughout history as shown by the passage in Saint John, chapter 3: "Now there was a Pharisee named Nicodemus, who belonged to the Jewish authorities; he came one night to Jesus and said, 'Rabbi, we know you have come from God to teach us, for no one could perform these Signs of yours unless God were with them.' Jesus replied, 'Truly, truly I tell you, no one can see God's Realm unless they are born again.' Nicodemus said to him, 'How can a person be born when they are old? Can they enter their mother's womb over again and be born?' Jesus replied, 'Truly, truly I tell you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, they cannot enter God's Realm. What is born of the flesh is flesh; what is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not wonder at me telling you, you must be born again.' "

Jesus is explaining the language of the Spirit to Nicodemus and in a somewhat frustrated tone explaining that he is not a lunatic.

Of course, he is not saying you must enter your mother's womb again and be born! The birth of which the Christians spoke was a birth of the Spirit that comes from communion—not from sex. As it says in Saint John chapter 1, verse 12: "On those who have accepted it, however, It has conferred the right of being children of God, that is, on those who believe in Its Name, who owe this birth of theirs to God, not to human blood, nor to any impulse of the flesh... ".

This is the mission of every true religion—to break through all the illusions, and reveal the true Host, the true Eucharist of the communion.

Those who know the true Creator have seen through the illusions taught to them and understand the meanings of the "miracles"—that they were not magic, nor tricks of science.

The problem is that the people believe that the truth is complicated when, in fact, it is simple. They are busy looking in the direction of the unknowable while the truth is staring them in the face.

They have convinced themselves that only a genius can understand such complexity and when they are told the simplicity of the truth they will not believe it, and they rebel against it.

As Ezekiel puts it, in chapter 2, verse 8: (and God said), " 'Child of humans, listen to what I say; be not rebellious like this rebellious folk; open your mouth and eat what I am giving you.'

Then I looked, and there was a hand stretched out to me, holding a written scroll! When it was unrolled before me, it was written all over, outside as well as inside, with laments and dirges and woes. 'Child of humans,' It said, 'eat this scroll, then go and speak to Israel.' So I opened my mouth and It made me eat the scroll, telling me, 'Child of humans, swallow and digest this scroll I am giving you.' When I ate it, the scroll tasted sweet as honey in my mouth.

'Child of humans,' It said to me, 'go to Israel and speak my words to them. It is to no people of a foreign tongue or a difficult language that you are sent, but to Israel. It is to no foreign nations whose language you could not understand. No, if I sent you to them, they would listen to you! But Israel will not listen to you, for they will not listen to me. Defiant and stubborn are they, every one of them. But I will make you as defiant and as stubborn, I will make your temper unyielding as adamant, harder than flint; fear them not, dread not their scowls (they are a rebellious folk).' "

The Message of God

The great and awesome message of God is simply this: the Serpent is the Tree of Life; the Tree of Knowledge is the Psychedelic, the Creator.

Whoever understands this has eternal life.

Eternal life means not having an ego to die when one sees the inner Light Being, the Holy Ghost.

Indeed, the whole story of Jesus can be understood rationally, without rationalizing that he must have used men from outer space, or magic, or tricks of science, when one knows that Jesus is the Serpent.

Consider the blind man whose eyes Christ opened. His blindness was not caused by lack of sight of his physical eyes. His lack of sight was of the inner, spiritual world which comes thru communion with the Creator, the Psychedelic.

Thus, did Christ make the statement: Saint John, chapter 9, verse 39: " 'It is for judgment that I have come into this world, to make the sightless see, to make the seeing blind.' On hearing this, the Pharisees who were beside him asked, 'And are we blind?' Jesus replied, 'If you were blind, you would not be guilty; but, as it is, you claim to have sight—and so your sin remains.' "

Clearly, Christ meant that the blindness was not of the physical eyes. This blindness came from not having sight of the inner Light. But, the priests claimed to have seen It when they hadn't, therefore they were worse than blind.

The real Light which enlightens every person who communes with It is the Psychedelic and the Pharisees had not only not communed with It but did not believe It was God. Therefore, not only did they remain blind, but worse, they arrogantly claimed to know the real Light and misled the people into darkness.

As Jeremiah put it in chapter 23, verse 16: "Never listen to what the priests say; they fill you up with idle hopes, they tell you fancies of their own, not anything the Creator says; 'All will be well,' they repeat, to people who scorn what the Creator says; 'No harm will come to you,' they tell the folk who follow their own stubborn minds. Which of them ever heard of grasped a word of the Lord? I never sent the priests yet they ran; I never spoke to them, and yet they ministered." Chapter 23, verse 36: "Will they never give over, these prophets of falsehood, who preach their own illusions, and would make my folk forget my name...".

Those who understand the meaning of the Serpent and believe and follow Its directions are saved. They have eaten the true Host, the flesh of the Creator, which is the Psychedelic Tree—of Knowledge, and have seen the true Holy Ghost, the inner Light Being.

We will not forget the Name of the true Creator, the only true Host—the only one whose flesh truly opens the eyes to the Light:
Psychedelics

The Punishment of the Rebellious Folk

The Bible is a handbook of the chemistry of society. Its prophesy applies equally today as in the past.

Just as in the past the people were lost, so with our present day society. Instead of finding the true good and the true bad, our society has called bad things good and good things bad.

Not knowing the true God produces this situation. As Isaiah said, (chapter 5, verse 20): "Woe to those who call good evil, and call evil good, who make out darkness to be light, light to be darkness, who make out bitter to be sweet, sweet to be bitter!

Woe to those who think themselves so wise, fancy themselves shrewd! Woe to those who are brave—at drinking! mighty at—mixing a bowl! who let off the guilty for a bribe, and deprive the innocent of their rights.

As a tongue of fire licks up the stubble, as hay is shriveled in the flames, their root shall rot, their blossoms moulder, for scorning orders from the Lord of hosts, for spurning what Israel's Majesty decreed."

We live in a society that believes in a fantasy god—an unreal god that doesn't exist.

And yet, in times of dire trouble, when life or death is at stake, it is to this "God" that these people turn to solve their problems. If the god to which one prays is not real, then what kind of remedy can be expected? In times when the only hope left is in the "super"—natural, what hope does a fantasy god give of a solution?

Only the true Host, the true flesh of consciousness can give real guidance.

Among all the "foods" in the world, some are set apart because of the "super" consciousness that they impart to those eating them. They are truly supernatural. They are so different from all other substances, that people go to them for guidance in times of trouble. The Psychedelic, It is the true God, the true Creator, the true Host of communion. The Psychedelic is the essence of consciousness, It is the consciousness Itself. Calling any other substance the Host, is simply false. It is only through illusion, hypnotism—brainwashing—that people believe that anything but the true Host, the Psychedelic, is the flesh of God.

As Isaiah says in chapter 57, verse 10: "You wearied yourselves out, but never would you give up; your strength revived, you would not cease, you went on fearlessly, in faithlessness, giving no thought to me, in your indifference. Is it not so? I said no word, I hid my face from you, and on you went, fearing me not. But I will expose your doings, this 'religion' of yours! Your loathsome idols, when you cry, will bring you neither help nor gain; the wind shall whirl them all away, a breath shall blow them off. But they who trust in me shall hold the land and own my sacred hills."

The "religions" of today, just as throughout history, offer illusions—mirages of help. The priests and rabbis lull the people into believing that all will be well. A person dying of thirst in the desert may be temporarily revitalized by the mirage of water, but this hallucination will never fill the parched stomach and without true water the person will die. This is what Jeremiah says of false prophets who mislead the people: (chapter 23, verse 15); This therefore is the sentence of the Lord of hosts upon the prophets: "I will feed them with bitter wormwood, and give them poisonous drugs; for the prophets of Jerusalem have spread profanity over the whole land." This is the warning of the Lord of hosts: "Never listen to what the prophets say; they fill you up with idle hopes, they tell you fancies of their own, not anything the Lord says. 'All will be well,' they repeat, to people who scorn what the Lord says; 'No harm will come to you.' they tell the folk who follow their own stubborn minds. Which of these prophets ever saw the council of the Lord? Which of them ever heard or grasped a word of the Creator? I never sent the prophets, yet they ran; I never spoke to them and yet they prophesied. If they had ever stood within my council, and heard a word of mine, they would have made my people turn from evil ways and evil deeds. Am I a God at hand and not a God far off? Can any person conceal themselves out of my sight... Will they never give over, these prophets of falsehood, who preach their own illusions, and would make my folk forget my Name...".

Without the true Host, what one sees as a solution has no more value than the false god that one worships.

Our society teaches that the true God—the Psychedelic—is bad. LSD, Marijuana, Peyote, Psilocybin, DMT—they are cast aside while at the same time we are taught to inundate ourselves with alcohol, tobacco, sleeping pills, coffee, antacids, sugar, preservatives and refined, processed foods.

The Prophet Jeremiah puts it very aptly, (chapter 9, verse 12): "Who is wise enough to understand this? Who is in the Lord's confidence to know why the country is so ruined, like a desert waste untraveled? 'Because they have forsaken the law I put before them, and disobeyed my orders, and not lived as I told them; because they followed their own stubborn minds, and Baals, as their parents taught them; therefore,' says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, 'I will feed this people with bitter wormwood and give them poisonous drugs....' ".

Here are the orders of the Lord for Its people, Israel: (Jeremiah, chapter 7, verse 21) "You can add your burnt-offerings to your other sacrifices, and eat the flesh yourselves! When I brought your parents from the land of Egypt, I said nothing to them, I gave them no orders, about burnt-offerings or sacrifices; my orders were, 'Listen to my voice, and I will be your God, as you shall be my people: live exactly as I order you, that you may prosper.' But they would not listen, they would not lend an ear; they lived as their own evil, stubborn hearts prompted them; they grew worse instead of better. From the day your parents left the land of Egypt, down to this day, I have been sending you all my servants the prophets eagerly and earnestly. But this people would not listen to me, they would not lend and ear; they were obdurate, they did worse than their parents."

And so our land is ruined and the people are eating poisonous drugs, just as the prophet Jeremiah prophesied would happen to those who refused to listen to the Lord's Word.

Meanwhile, the followers of the Light, just as were all the prophets, are hounded and thrown into jails while the distributors of darkness and pollution and disease are put into positions of control. As Isaiah observed, (chapter 57): "Meanwhile the good people die, and no one heeds it; pious people are perishing, and no one cares. The evil of the day kills off good people."

Who can be held responsible for this evil? Who have misled the people till they cannot hear or see the truth? It is the same priests of falsehood—the false prophets of our age who once again are lulling the people into a deathly narcosis of false security. As Jeremiah put it: (chapter 23, verse 26); "Will they never give over, these prophets of falsehood who preach their own illusions, and would make my folk forget my name..."

Religion in the Atomic Age

In the past it was necessary to recognize the difference between good and bad plants and foods in order to stay heathy. But, today with the advent of chemical synthesis, it is necessary to recognize the difference between good and bad molecules.

In the blindness engendered by the worship of false gods, the people have superstitiously believed that by eating what comes from the earth that they will be safe. People try to justify the use of opium, cocaine, and alcohol by saying that these poisons come from the earth!

How blind they are! In the past there were no chemical synthetics to confuse the issue, and the plants that grew in the earth were the only sources of good or bad food.

It is the same today, although humans have learned to produce substances synthetically, directly from the earth, it still comes from the earth.

Humans today are able to produce from the earth what only plants could produce in the past. What difference does it make whether these substances are produced inside or outside of a body?

It is the Creator that gives the consciousness to produce any substance in the first place, whether it is done by an organ of a body, inside the body, or the appendages of a body, outside of it, it is still the body creating that substance.

The Creator, Itself, is a real molecule, and, just as It showed the plants how to synthesize Itself from the earth in the past, so now has It given humans the knowledge to take the earth and synthesize It!

Our leaders think they shall find peace and safety by their intellectual diplomacy, relying on a false god to deliver them. But, as Isaiah said in chapter 28, verse 14: "You scoffers, ruling in Jerusalem here, listen to this word from the Lord: you think you have struck terms with death, and made your compact with the powers of doom, so that the surging scourge of a flood can never reach you since you are safe behind a lie and sheltered by a falsehood!

Well, this is the Lord God's word: 'Here I lay Zion's foundation, a rare and tested stone, secure and solid (whoever has faith in me will never flinch); I will build up Zion with justice, and mould it upon equity.

But your safe place the hail shall sweep away, and floods shall whelm your shelter; your terms with death shall be revoked, and your compact with doom shall never hold; when the flood rushes over, down you go, under its surge you sink; every morning it surges—by day and by night—and then you learn your lesson, to your terror!"

The religions today believe that they have safety in the scriptures and pray to "the Lord", but their communion Host is false and empty: (Isaiah, chapter 29, verse 13), " 'Since this people draw near me with their mouth,' says the Lord, 'honouring me with their lips, while their hearts are far remote; since their religion is a mockery, a mere tradition learned by rote; I will now deal with them to their amazement, bewildering, surprising them, till the 'wise' lose their wits, and the 'clever' are fooled.

Woe to those who hide their plans from the Lord, working in the dark, and thinking, 'No one sees or knows!' "

It is amazing that in this advanced scientific age, that people still believe in and pray to false gods and idols. We can weigh the difference between an atom of hydrogen with one proton and an atom of hydrogen with one proton and one neutron! but we can't see the difference between a false Host that does nothing in communion and the true Host that causes one to be truly reborn into the Spirit and to transcend the ego into the Light of the sacred Being, the Holy Ghost.

Scientists who ordinarily will accept nothing unless proven by logic and experiment so easily accept the hocus-pocus that the religious leaders profess to accomplish. Magically transforming a piece of wheat bread into the flesh of God! Indeed!!

Meanwhile, the world is poisoning itself and banishing its consciousness into a dungeon of darkness. But, of those who do recognize and follow the true Light of Consciousness, (the Psychedelic), Isaiah writes: (chapter 60), "Arise, be glad, your light is dawning, the Lord's spendor rises upon you. Though darkness covers all the earth, and a black cloud shrouds the nations, yet the Lord shines out upon you, Its splendour upon you gleams, till nations gather to your light and monarchs to your bright beams."

In a world where the atom can be split, smashed, recombined, and used as such a powerful weapon that the whole earth could be annihilated, the fact that the world leaders are praying to a Walt Disney version of God is a chilling and frighteningly dangerous reality. It was no mere coincidence that the atomic bomb and L.S.D. were invented in the same year: 1938!

Those who lead the world to the true God, the true Consciousness shall be uplifted as of old. Isaiah, chapter 42, verse 5: "Here is the message of the Lord, the true God, who spread and stretched the heavens, who made the earth and all it bears, who gives breath to Its people and life to those who walk on it: 'I the Lord have called you of set purpose, I have taken you by the hand, I have formed you for the rescuing of my people, for a light to nations, to open eyes that are blind, to free captives from their bondage, darkened lives from prison.' "

The Psychedelic gives us consciousness. It is consciousness. Consciousness, awareness, feeling, they are all the same thing. The Psychedelic gives us the consciousness to feel. If we are harming ourselves, the Psychedelic wakes us up to the pain and then shows us the path to the good. This is how the Creator works. But, pride and ego work together to keep most people from seeing and admitting that they took a wrong turning. As Jeremiah says: (chapter 8, verse 5), "Tell them that this is the Lord's word: Does not a person get up when they have fallen? Do people not retrace their steps, after a wrong turning? Then why does this people persist, when they have taken a wrong turning? They stick fast to their falsehood, they will not retrace their steps. I have listened and heard what they say; not a word of the truth!—not one person repenting of their sin, saying, 'What have I done?' The very stork of the air knows when to migrate; the dove, the swift, the crane, keep to the time of their coming;

but my people never heed the Lord's ruling.

What! you say, 'We are wise, we do have Its directions'—when lo, your scribes have written them wrong, and falsified them? No, the 'wise' shall be discomfited, dismayed and tricked. They have rejected the Lord's word; so what 'wisdom' have they? I will destroy them utterly, says the Lord..."

The Danger of Pride

If our world is to pull itself out of the black hole into which it is being drawn the people must open their eyes and see the truth. The people who fight against this are fighting to retain their egos since the Light of day would make them feel foolish and ashamed just as Adam and Eve were ashamed when they saw the Light of the true Lord of Hosts. But unless the people put aside their pride they will continue down the long tunnel to disaster.

Here is Isaiah's prophesy of doom for the prideful: (chapter 2, verse 10), "Get into the caves of the rocks, hide in holes of the ground, away from the terror of the Lord, from Its dread majesty. For It has abandoned Its people, the household of Jacob: their land so full of traders, of bargains with the foreigner, their land so full of silver and gold no end to their stores, their land so full of horses, no end to their war-chariots, their land so full of idols, no end to their images—they worship what their own hands make, statues that their own fingers fashion! But human pride shall be laid low, people's haughtiness shall be humbled; the Lord shall alone be exalted, when It rises to overawe the earth.

Get into caves of the rocks, hide in holes of the ground, away from the terror of the Lord, from Its dread majesty. For the Lord of Hosts has a day of doom on all that is proud and haughty, on all that is lofty and soaring...then human pride shall be laid low, people's haughtiness shall be humbled; the Lord shall alone be exalted, but idols one and all shall vanish."

To be saved a person must put aside their pride and put value only in the truth.

The Creator, the Psychedelic, asks us to spread Its Name—to speak Its Word to the people. In return, Its promise is to make a new Covenant, a new Testament with Its servants, to be their God and to lead them. Not that this is the "easy" way. As Christ says in Saint Luke, chapter 12, verse 49: "I have come to throw fire on earth. Would it were kindled already! I have a baptism to undergo—what tension I suffer, till it is all over! You think I am here to make peace on earth? No, I tell you, it is dissension. After this there will be five at issue in one house, three divided against two and two against three, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law." (Chapter 9, verse 23): "Christ said to all, 'If anyone wishes to come after me, let them deny themselves, take up their cross day after day, and so follow me; for whoever wants to save their life will lose it, and whoever loses their life for my sake, they will save it. What profit will it be for a person to gain the whole world and lose or forfeit themselves? For whoever is ashamed of me and my words, of them will I be ashamed when I come in my glory, in the glory of the Creator and of the Holy Angels."

The true Host, the Psychedelic, is the true Consciousness. It will show us the love and the hate, the good and the evil because It is the true Tree of Knowledge of good and evil.

Thus, we can see and separate the good from the evil, the polluted from the clean—God from the devil—the waters from the waters: (Genesis, chapter 1, verse 6), "Then God said, 'Let there be a Firmament between the waters, to divide them'; so God made the Firmament, dividing the waters under the Firmament from the waters above the Firmament, and God called the Firmament heaven."

The Path of the Lord

Saint Matthew, chapter 7, verse 13: "Enter by the narrow gate: for the gate is broad and the road is wide that leads to destruction, and many enter that way. But the road that leads to life is both narrow and close, and there are few who find it."

How can one find the Lord's path? First one must find the Lord, the true Creator.

Look to the communion. It is very simple. The real Creator, the real flesh of God, the true Host, is the one that really does what It is supposed to do—It doesn't have to be "blessed" by any priest or rabbi—no hocus pocus need be said because, whether It is in the hands of thieves and murderers, or in the hands of Its Saints, It is the true Host, the real Light. As Saint John the Baptist says of It: (chapter 1, verse 9), "The real light, which enlightens every person was coming then into the world..."

The real Light does enlighten every person who eats It, whether they know that It is the Creator or not, because It is the real Light.

Isaiah, chapter 31, verse 20: "Though scant and scarce may be your bread and water from the Lord, yet It, your Teacher, never leaves you now; you see your Teacher for yourselves, and when you swerve to right or left, you hear a Voice behind you whispering, 'This is the way, walk here.' Then all your idols shall you desecrate, metal or wood, plated with gold or silver, flinging them from you in disgust, and bidding them begone."

One must take the true Host in communion, and then It will speak to them and guide them. But, the people do not recognize It. They may ingest the Psychedelic every day, but they do not understand what It is, they do not give the respect due to Its sacred Presence, therefore, It is wroth with them. 1 Corinthians, chapter 11, verse 27: "...anyone who eats the loaf or drinks the cup of the Lord carelessly, will have to answer for a sin against the body and the blood of the Lord. Let a person test themself; then they can eat from the loaf and drink from the cup. For whoever eats and drinks without a proper sense of the Body, eats and drinks to their own condemnation. That is why many of you are ill and infirm, and a number even dead. If we only judged our own lives truly, we would not come under the Lord's judgment. As it is, we are chastened when we are judged by It, so that we may not be condemned along with the world."

The Psychedelic: L.S.D., Marijuana, D.M.T., Peyote, Psilocybin, D.P.T., is the true Host, and anyone who eats these substances without the respect due the Most High, is eating them, as Saint Paul says, to their own condemnation.

But, if they eat It with the respect due to the true Creator, the Majesty of Israel, the King of kings—then, It will guide them and teach them and show them the Way, Its Sacred Path.

As it says in the First Epistle of John, chapter 2, verse 25: "Children, it is the last hour. You have learned that 'Antichrist is coming.' Well, but many antichrists have appeared—which makes us sure it is the last hour. They withdrew from us, but they did not belong to us; had they belonged to us, they would have remained with us, but they withdrew—to make it plain that they are none of us. Now, you have been anointed by the holy One, and you possess all knowledge. I am not writing to you, because you do not know the truth, but because you do know it, and know that no lie belongs to the truth. Who is the real liar? who but those who deny that Jesus is the Christ? This is 'antichrist', those who disown the Creator and Its Children. No one who disowns the Children can possess the Creator: those who confess Its Children possess the Creator as well.

Let that remain in you which you learned from the very beginning; if what you learned from the very beginning remains with you, then you will remain in the Children and in the Creator.

Now this is what they have promised you, eternal life. I am writing to you in this way about those who would deceive you, but the unction you received from them remains within you, and you really need no teaching from anyone; simply remain in them, for their unction teaches you about everything and is true and is no lie—remain in them, as It has taught you to do. Remain within them now, dear children, so that when they appear you may have confidence, instead of shrinking from them in shame at their arrival."

The blood of the lamb can wash us clean of our sins because It shows us what is not good for us. Sin is rooted in the worship of false gods—a false Host gives no guidance because it is not super—consciousness. The Creator is called: The Most High. This is because It is the essence of consciousness. It is the Consciousness of the universe. It is the Most Conscious, Its consciousness is infinite just as Its finite Body is infinite in the infinite universe.

The true Creator gives real knowledge of good and evil and thus, permits us to walk on the sacred path to the good.

Nor can one be rid of evil unless one becomes conscious of it.

A person cannot be faithful to the Creator, the Psychedelic, and pollute themselves. Taking polluting substances into the Temple of the Creator—one's Body—and doing so deliberately as people do with alcohol, cocaine, or heroin, etc., is idol worship!

The Light of Consciousness will show them the idol. If they cannot let go of their ego and their pride and follow, then each time they commune with the Host they will be chastised by It. Sooner or later either the person must follow the Light or run from It.

The New Morality

Our religious leaders have tried to make the people believe that sex is bad. They tell us that we must not have more than one husband or wife, we must not have sex with anyone of the same sex nor with anyone of the same family.

These "taboos" are fiercly enforced and to question them is likely to lose one one's job, or worse, one's family, or land one up in jail.

We are asked to blindly believe that our priests know what is good for us and not to question their dictates. And they tell us that their directions come from God!

However, with the knowledge of what the true God is, we know that these religious leaders are not to be followed. As Isaiah says: (chapter 29, verse 13), "Since this people draw near me with their mouth," says the Lord, "honouring me with their lips, while their hearts are far remote; since their religion is a mockery, a mere tradition learned by rote; I will now deal with them to their amazement, bewildering, surprising them, till the 'wise' lose their wits, and the 'clever' are fooled."

To understand morality one must understand where the morality came from.

"Thou shalt not commit adultery" has been the excuse for the punishment and death of many a lover. But, as Christ explains in Saint Luke, chapter 20, verse 34: "People in this world marry and are married, but those who are considered worthy to attain yonder world and the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are married, for they cannot die anymore; they are equal to angels, and by sharing in the resurrection they are the children of God."

In other words, in heaven there is no marriage between male and female, the marriage is between the individual and God.

Why, then, are there so many vitriolic statements in the Bible against sex?

One simple reason is that although the central message of the Bible survived the many translations throughout history, many concepts were lost. Not only did the translators change the original message, they also added their own ideas of morality. Historically speaking, the Bible was passed down by word of mouth and was not written down until approximately three to four hundred years after Moses, during the reign of King David or Solomon. The kingdom of Israel that was united under the prophet Samuel only remained united under the two kings who followed him—David and Solomon. After them, the kingdoms split into the two fiercly competitive factions of Judah and Israel. Both kingdoms produced their own versions of the Bible. Some time later, after the Northern Kingdom of Israel had been destroyed and deported to Assyria, the Southern Kingdom of Judah, under King Hezekiah, (during the time of Isaiah), fused the northern and southern writings into one. Later, during the time of Jeremiah a further rewriting took place and in this case, according to Jeremiah, a drastic one. The rewriting centered around a new law book somehow connected with the present book of Deuteronomy. Here is what Jeremiah said in reference to these rewritings: (chapter 8, verse 8), "What! you say, 'We are wise, we do have the Lord's directions'—when lo, your scribes have written them wrong, and falsified them?"

An example of the disagreement Jeremiah had with the way the scribes were rewriting the Bible can be found on the subject of burnt offerings. Throughout the books of Genesis, Exodus, etc., up to the time of Jeremiah, one finds reference to the sacrifice of animals and the burning of various parts of their bodies as an offering to the Lord. This is what Jeremiah says about that, (chapter 7, verse 21): "This is what the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, says: 'You can add your burnt-offerings to your other sacrifices, and eat the flesh yourselves! When I brought your parents from the land of Egypt, I said nothing to them, I gave them no orders, about burnt-offerings or sacrifices; my orders were: Listen to my voice, and I will be your God, as you shall be my people—live exactly as I order you, that you may prosper.'"

This is in direct contradiction to what the scribes of his time were writing about the Lord's directions to Moses.

Regardless of Isaiah's or Jeremiah's opposition, the scribes went on dauntlessly falsifying the Lord's directions. Here are some examples of what we have inherited from them as "the Lord's Word".

Women were to be treated as their husband's possessions, much in the same way that cattle were treated. The rich Hebrew men had many wives. A man who was displeased with his wife could simply give her a "notice" of divorce and dismiss her from his household. If a married or unmarried man had intercourse with an unmarried woman he had to marry her. But, if she was married they were both stoned to death. (Exodus, chapter 22, verse 16; Leviticus, chapter 18, verse 10).

Exodus also gives laws on how to treat a slave. It allowed the Israelites to have slaves even though they had been slaves themselves in Egypt! and knew the cruelty of slavery. Slaves were beaten and used sexually. Exodus, chapter 21, verse 20: "If a man strikes one of his slaves, male or female, with a rod, so that the slave dies under the blow, he shall be punished; but if the slave survives a day or two, he shall not be punished, for the slave is his own property."

How Isaiah and Jeremiah must have fumed over the barbarity that the scribes of their day claimed to be the Lord's law. Deuteronomy, chapter 13, verse 6: "If your half-brother or your full brother, your son or your daughter, the wife of your bosom or the friend who is your other self, whispers to you the enticing word, 'Let us go and worship other gods', (gods who are strange to you or to your fathers, gods of the nations near or far away, from one end of the earth to another), then you must refuse him, you must never listen to him, you must have no pity on him, you must not spare him, you must not conceal his guilt, you must denounce him; you shall be the first to take a hand in killing him, and then all the people shall follow, stoning him to death for having tried to allure you from the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that slave-pen. So shall all Israel hear and fear and never again be guilty of a crime like this."

What a far cry such laws are from the gentle forgiveness of Isaiah: (chapter 1, verse 18), "Come, let me put it thus, the Lord argues: scarlet your sins may be but they can become white as snow, they may be red as crimson, and yet turn white as wool. If only you are willing to obey, you shall feed on the best of the land; but if you decline and defy me, then husks shall be your food—so the Lord Itself decrees."

Isaiah and Jeremiah referred back to the original directions of God from the beginning. As it says in Genesis, chapter 1, verse 29: "God also said, 'See I give you every plant that bears seed all over the earth and every tree with seed in its fruit; be that your food. To every wild beast on earth, to every bird of the air, and to every living creature that crawls on earth, I give all the green growth for food."

That this is what Isaiah referred to and accepted as the only true word of God can be inferred from the passage in Isaiah, chapter 11: "From the stump of Jesse a shoot shall rise, and children from his roots shall flourish; on them shall rest the spirit of the Lord, the spirit of wisdom and insight, the spirit of counsel and strength, the spirit that knows and reverences the Lord. They will not judge by appearances, nor decide by hearsay, but act with justice to the helpless and decide fairly for the humble; they will strike down the ruthless with their verdicts, and slay the unjust with their sentences. Justice shall gird them up for action, they shall be belted with trust-worthiness.

The wolf shall couch then with the lamb, the leopard's lair shall be the kid's; the lion shall eat straw like any ox, wolf and lion shall graze side by side, herded by a little child; the cow and the bear shall be friends, and their young lie down together; the infant shall play at the hole of an asp, with the baby's feet at the nest of a viper. None shall injure, none shall kill, anywhere on my sacred hill; for the land shall be as full of the knowledge of the Lord as the ocean-bed is full of water."

Chapter 4, verse 2 of Isaiah: "Then fair and fine shall the green growth be, and a proud crown shall the field-crops be, for the Israelites who are spared; the survivors in Zion, and those who are left in Jerusalem, all who are entered in the book of Life, they shall be held sacred, when the Lord has washed away the filth from Zion, and rinsed Jerusalem from bloodstains, by a blast of doom, a devastating blast. Then shading all mount Zion the Lord Itself will form a cloud during the daytime, and spread o'er all the gatherings there a canopy of brilliant light, a fire within the night, to shade them from the scorching heat, and safely shelter them from storm and sleet."

Saint Paul also abstained from meat eating as shown in the passage in I Corinthians, chapter 8, verse 8: "Now mere food will not bring us any nearer to God; if we abstain we do not lose anything, and if we eat we do not gain anything. But see that the exercise of your right does not prove any stumbling-block to the weak. Suppose anyone sees you, a person of enlightened mind, reclining at meat inside an idol's temple; will that really 'fortify their weak conscience'? Will it not embolden them to violate their scruples of conscience by eating food that has been offered to idols? They are ruined, these weak people, ruined by your 'enlightened mind,' these people for whom Christ died! By sinning in this way against the faith and wounding their weaker consciences, you are sinning against Christ. Therefore if food is any hindrance to the welfare of the faithful, sooner than injure them I will never eat flesh as long as I live, never!"

Isaiah and Jeremiah were repaid for their disagreement with the false prophets, (who were in power), by being tormented, beaten, their lives threatened, and thrown in prison. And this was done by the very "prophets" who rewrote the Bible!!—the Bible upon which our societies base their laws and moralities!!!

Isaiah, chapter 50, verse 4: "The Lord, the Creator, has given me a well-trained tongue, that I may answer the ungodly; every morning It awakens me to learn my lesson, and never have I disobeyed, or turned away. I let them lash my back, and pluck my beard out, I never hid my face from shame and spitting. The Lord, the Creator, It will help me; so I am not confounded, I set my face like a flint, knowing that I shall not be put to shame."

At any rate, 600 years later, the Christians began realizing what Isaiah and Jeremiah had been saying—that those who called themselves "Hebrews" were no longer aware of what the true God, the true Host was. Indeed, Saint John says exactly this in chapter 7, verse 37: Christ said to the Jews, "I know you are Abraham's offspring! Yet you want to kill me, since my word makes no headway among you! I speak of what I have seen with the Creator and you act as you have learned from your parents." They answered him, "Abraham is our parent." "If you were Abraham's children," said Jesus, "then do as Abraham did: but now you want to kill me—to kill a man who has told you the truth, the truth I have learned from God. Abraham did not do that. You do the deeds of your parents." They said to him, "We are no bastards: we have one creator, even God." Said Jesus, "If God were your creator, you would love me, for I came here from God; I did not come of my own accord, I was sent by It. Why do you not understand my speech? Because you are unable to listen to what I am saying; you belong to your parents, the devil, and you want to do what your parents desire; they were a slayers of humans from the very beginning, and they have no place in the truth because there is no truth in them: when they tell a lie, they are expressing their own nature, for they are liars and the parents of lies. It is because I tell the truth, that you do not believe me."

The Equality of the Lord

Anyone who knows the true Host, the true Creator, knows that Its Light is for everyone who eats It—the animals and insects—all life. This means, in terms of human relationships, that women are equal to men in the eyes of God. 1 Corinthians, chapter 11, verse 11: "Of course, in the Lord, woman does not exist apart from man, any more than man apart from woman; for as woman was made from man, so man is now made from woman, while both, like all things, come from God."

The concept of equality of the sexes brought a challenge to the laws that the false scribes had written on adultery. If a man and a woman are equal, then women could have many husbands, just as men had always had many wives. But, the Jews would have stoned the women to death who married more than one husband—as well as the husband.

The solution to this was monogamy.

So, for thousands of years, one man and one woman have married and have had lovers in secret.

But, these arrangements were for the unbelieving masses since, as was mentioned before, Christ states that in heaven there is no marriage between male and female, but only between the individual and the Creator.

All those who understand what the true Creator is will be married to It. As Isaiah says: (chapter 54, verse 4), "Fear not, you never shall be put to shame; be not confused, you shall not be confounded; your early shame you shall forget, the taunts when you were cast aside; for your husband is your Maker, the Lord of hosts Its name; your redeemer is the Majesty of Israel, the God of all the earth."

We seek to once again open the eyes, just as did Christ and the Serpent. We seek to show the true knowledge. As Christ said in Saint John, chapter 9, verse 39: " 'It is for judgment that I have come into this world, to make the sightless see, to make the seeing blind.' On hearing this, the Pharisees, who were beside him asked, 'And are we blind?' Jesus replied, 'If you were blind, you would not be guilty; but, as it is, you claim to have sight—and so your sin remains.' "

Societies have hypnotized and brainwashed the people until they have come to accept the so called "moralities" as if they were instinctual rather than realizing where they came from—the false scribes and prophets—who arbitrarily and for their own greedy and lustful purposes falsified the Lord's Word.

As can be seen by understanding these truths, the morality of God is just as misunderstood as is the true purpose and identity of the Creator, Itself, and our laws have come from our society's belief concerning the will of the Creator.

Unfortunately, many people are too afraid to think for themselves. We have been taught to take the "authority's" word as fact. We have been told that we do not have the capability of understanding for ourselves. Many people will see and understand but they will not trust their own understanding and will rather, take the judgments of those they have been taught to blindly follow. They are afraid to even consider that they might be wrong, because if they are wrong then they would feel obliged to change their life style and this is not a comfortable thought to them. They are afraid of social rejection, as well. As Christ puts it in Saint John, chapter 5, verse 44: "How can you believe, you who accept credit from one another instead of aiming at the credit which comes from the only God?"

Of course, the laws against the true Host, the Psychedelic, have been a great burden upon Its Children. As Christ said in Saint Luke, chapter 11, verse 46: "Woe to you jurists! you load the people with irksome burdens, and you will not put a single finger to their burdens. Woe to you! you build tombs for the prophets whom your own parents killed: thus you testify and consent to what your parents did, for they killed and you build. This is why the Wisdom of God said, 'I will send them prophets and apostles, some they will kill and some they will persecute'; it was that the blood of all the prophets shed from the foundation of the world might be charged upon this generation, from the blood of Abel down to the blood of Zechariah who was slain between the altar and the House of God—yes, I tell you, it will all be charged upon this generation. Woe to you jurists! you have taken the key that unlocks the door of knowledge; you have not entered yourselves, and you have stopped those who were entering".

To ever come to rest and true peace, one must find the truth, and to find the truth one must use reason and objective, scientific thought. Objective thought is the only tool to real understanding and truth, and consciousness is the only way to objective thought.

Thus, we worship the essence of Consciousness, the Most High, the Psychedelic, and follow It as It reveals to us The Sacred Way, listening breathlessly to the message of the jeweled primeval Light Being as It sojourns within.

The Temple of the Body

"Do you not know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit within you—the Spirit you have received from God? You are not your own, you were bought for a price; then glorify God with your body."
—1 Corinthians, chapter 6, verse 19.

Although today there is much more emphasis on nutrition than in the recent past it is of utmost importance to understand the value of taking good care of the Body-Temple.

Good food acts as an anchor to reality. People who act in "schizophrenic" ways, in ways that appear to be very estranged from reality will be found eating very poorly, if at all. Those who are eating well and still acting "insane", are those whose bodies are not able to metabolize properly. One way or another, it is the inability of good food to reach the body that is the cause of "insanity", (although, worshiping a false host is insanity and is the root of all insanity.)

Lacto-ovo-vegetarianism is the ideal of dietary goodness. Not only does this type of diet remove most hydrogenated fats from the body, but it also frees one from the spiritual guilt of having to kill to eat.

When an animal is about to be slaughtered it feels intense fear and the adrenal gland secretes massive amounts of adrenaline into its bloodstream. When someone then eats that body, some of that adrenaline is still there so that the person who eats it shares in the panic that the animal felt just before death. This accounts for our overly paranoid society. This is not to mention the hormones put into the feed to make the cattle fat—which then go into the humans and make them fat as well as cause cancer!—or the antibiotics which also go into the humans and destroy the intestinal flora and thus, the ability to digest food properly.

There are plenty of non-meat foods which are many times richer in b vitamins than any meat and are at least equal to meat in protein.

Soybeans, eggs, brewers yeast, milk, wheat germ are a few examples of good life sustaining foods that can, more than just sustain life, increase one's health and awareness beyond anything previously attained.

The main cause of death in our society is lack of knowledge of nutrition. Heart disease, cancer, diabetes, etc., are caused by bad nutrition, and can be cured by good nutrition. Substances such as laetrile, vitamin E, A, and C, and pantothenic acid have added new horizons to the field of health.

Unfortunately, the "doctors" have lagged, as throughout history, far behind, and have failed to recognize or even to seriously study with scientific objectivity the merits of these nutritional God-sends.

For instance, many people suffer from nervousness, insomnia, and physical pain created by tension. Vitamin D, combined with calcium and magnesium acts as a natural tranquillizer that, with good nutrition, does a better job than any narcotic could ever do in bringing sleep and tranquillity.

They can be used to relieve cramps caused by menstruation, or from labor during childbirth.

Calcium builds bones and teeth and protects the nerves. Magnesium is a neuro-transmiter and is essential for the smooth transmission of messages along the nerves. It can prevent convulsions, such as those caused by epilepsie and it builds the memory.

Vitamin D is necessary for the absorption of calcium and all the vitamins as well.

The importance of good nutrition cannot be emphasized enough in helping keep serenity of mind and in helping keep people away from harmful substances.

The Temple of the True Inner Light is an organization of worshipers of the true Creator: the Psychedelic. It is located at 335 East 9th Street, New York, New York, 10003, telephone: 212-777-8009.

We are involved in fighting for the right to worship God in the courts and are having regular communions with non-controlled Psychedelics such as Dipropyl Tryptamine.

Those interested may contact us at the above address.
